Júlio César Bueno has been a partner at Pinheiro Neto Advogados since 2001.

He has national and international experience focusing on the practice of construction law and engineering contracts —specially the use of FIDIC standard forms—, project establishment, project finance and public procurement, as well as on arbitration and mediation proceedings, and dispute boards.

He represents some of the world's largest organisations —owners, multilateral agencies, financial institutions, contractors and developers— in global infrastructure and construction projects in Brazil, Latin America and Africa.

He assists clients across the entire project spectrum, including gas facilities, power plants (nuclear, coal-fired, gas-fired, combined cycle and hydro), wind farms, steel manufacturing facilities, copper mining facilities, coal mining facilities and ports.

He is the president-elect of the Dispute Resolution Board Foundation's Executive Board, president of the Brazilian Society of Construction Law, and vice co-chair of the International Bar Association's International Construction Projects Committee.

He is also a fellow of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators, founder fellow of the International Academy of Construction Lawyers, board member of the International Construction Law Association, officer of the Latin American & Caribbean Users' Council for the London Court of International Arbitration, and member of the Brazilian Institute of Civil Procedure Law.

He holds a master's degree from the University of Cambridge (LLM, 1995) and a doctorate from the University of São Paulo Law School (PhD, 2001).
